

HUHTAMAKI SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION FORM

Huhtamaki is a Finnish consumer packaging company with a plant located in Fulton, New York. The Fulton plant wishes to commemorate the 2022 opening of Cayuga's Advanced Manufacturing Institute on the Fulton campus with the creation of a scholarship for students who are entering one of the Advanced Manufacturing programs at Cayuga.

This scholarship is intended for a ~~fit~~ student who will be attending Cayuga Community College on the Fulton Campus and enrolled in one of the Advanced Manufacturing programs. Candidates must be a graduate from the following school districts: Fulton City School District, Phoenix Central School District, Mexico Academy and Central School District, Hannibal Central School District and Center for Instruction, Technology & Innovation (CiTi BOCES). Candidates are reminded that they must have completed an application to and have been accepted for admission to Cayuga Community College. Preference will be given to students with family members who have worked in the local manufacturing industry and to students with a connection to a current employee at Huhtamaki.

Scholarship application forms are available from the Office of Student Financial Services of Cayuga Community College, The Cayuga Community College Foundation, Inc., or at Cayuga Community College's Fulton Campus. Review of scholarship applications and final selection will be made by a review committee.
